A FEW PARAGRAPHS REGARDING "FREE PUBLICITY"

There is apparently an idea in the minds of many promoters of schemes, legitimate and illegitimate, that newspapers, and more particularly country newspapers, are suffering for copy and should be supplied with it. The only stipulation is that the publisher shall crowd it into his space gratis. It is a beautiful system; the promoter well and our readers perhaps like his stuff; in conformity to his idea many of them come in on the ground floor and he profits. Possibly those who come in profit. The publisher is the only loser.

The flood of publicity matter which comes to the newspaper office in circular form, beginning "Dear Editor," and suggesting always that our readers are certainly greatly interested in the campaign to make the Eskimos use bath-tubs or will be delighted to learn why railroad fares or meat prices ought to be higher instead of lower is tremendous. Four waste-baskets of the stuff each week are thrown out. By careful figuring we have determined that it costs the "free literature" people to write, type and mail this publicity to our office not less than twenty dollars a week.

The newspapers in the past few years have given to the Government and the allied organizations doing war work many columns of this gratis publicity. It was a matter of patriotism. They stand ready now to help worthy organizations that deserve help, but there should be reason in the thing. Advertising space is a commodity just as groceries or clothing are—it is hard to make some people believe this, but it is a fact. There is as much logic in asking for a suit of clothes as there is in requesting free of charge fifty dollars' worth of advertising. A case of tomatoes or half a column of reading matter—is there any more sense in giving away the latter than the former, especially to some one you never heard of or cared to?

There are, to be sure, many organizations that deserve and will receive all the help we can give them. The Red Cross, the Associated Charities and the governmental agencies can have what they feel they want from us. But as for that other mass of words, if you want to read it, you'll have to dig it out of the waste-basket.

A 200 YEAR JOB.

At the present rate 200 years will be needed to finish mapping the world. Great areas remain unexplored and little is known of millions of square miles of land. By using the aeroplane for map making this work may be done in the next twenty years. Instead of climbing mountains and laboriously measuring the land foot by foot, we shall do the work while flying a hundred miles an hour. A special camera is placed in the bottom of the car and photographs are taken automatically, so many to the second or minute. These photographs are then fitted together in what is known as a mosaic map which shows every house of towns or cities and every road and tree of the country. No such maps have ever been made before. The aero map is one of the inventions of the war which will prove invaluable.

Will power only accomplishes its end when it can successfully combat won't power.

SAYS CARRANZA CAUSED RAIDS ON AMERICANS.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Jan. 26.—President Carranza and a few of his principal lieutenants instigated and directed the long series of raids on American properties that began along the Rio Grande early in 1915, according to documentary evidence placed before the Senate subcommittee investigating the Mexican situation.

This was supported by testimony by John A. Wallis, the District Attorney at Brownsville, Tex.; L. R. Barnes, in charge of the United States army intelligence work along the border during the war, and other witnesses.

The committee obtained from them and from documentary evidence information purporting to show that not only were the highest Mexican officials cognizant of the program of the raiding parties which was carried out under the provisions of the "plan of San Diego," but that as late as June, 1915, they were still giving encouragement to and aiding those who participated in those raids in plans inimical to the United States.

Incident to the taking of testimony regarding Mexican Government officials connected with the "plan of San Diego," further information was obtained as to the success encountered by Germans in bidding for the sympathy and support of Mexico during the war and the present alleged drift toward Bolshevism.

T. B. Altendorf, a Pole, who was in the intelligence service of the American army during the war, was placed on the witness stand long enough to identify Mario Mendez, the Director of the Telegraphs in Mexico, as one of those whom Minister von Eckhardt kept on his payroll during the war.

Altendorf said Mendez's job was to see that copies of all messages from the United States bearing on military affairs were delivered to the German delegation.

A new note on the Bolshevik movement in Mexico came from a copy of a letter written by Linn Gale to L. C. A. K. Martens, the Bolshevik representative at New York.

"Knowing you are the financial agent of the Russian society in New York," Gale wrote, "I take the liberty of asking you if you can give me financial aid in my propaganda in Mexico."

He added the explanation that he was the editor of a magazine devoted to the furtherance of radicalism. He explained that he went to Mexico to evade the army draft, "and since then," he added, "I have established very close relations with the Mexican Government, which I have urged to Bolshevise the country, and which will, I believe, do so. have been extended unusual help in various ways by President Carranza and his prime minister, Secretary Barlanga."

Summarized, the plan of San Diego, a copy of which was read in the record, follows:

"The States of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona and California, are to be invaded simultaneously with uprisings of Mexican and negro citizens on the American side. A separate government is to be established and reannexation to Mexico requested. Six other States contiguous to this territory are to be carved out of the United States to be formed into a negro republic, under the protection of Mexico. This is to be accomplished in a ruthless manner. All male Americans more than 16 years of age are to be killed."

The document itself is about 2,000 words long.

No Mere Fit of Anger.

Anna, becoming very angry, bit her smaller sister. Her mother, hearing the little child cry, went to see what was the trouble. When she found out she reproached Anna and asked her over what she had become angry. Anna replied: "I wasn't angry, that was righteous indignation."—Chicago American.

To Get Rid of Mildew Stain. Mildew is an obstinate discoloration, but will yield if rubbed with lemon juice, followed by salt, and exposure to the sun. For mildew on other materials than linen a mixture consisting of two tablespoonfuls of turpentine, blended with the juice of a lemon, is recommended.

Australian Foresight.

A band of youngsters with a pack of mongrels ran a rabbit into a log on a local reserve the other day. An argument ensued as to what was to be done with the rabbit. The genius of the party reasoned thus: "Let 'im go. The more rabbits the more fun for us." That settled it and the rabbit was spared.—Freeman's Journal.

DOCTOR'S PATIENT GAINS 17 POUNDS

Prominent Physician Continues To Use Tanlac In Practice With Surprising Results.

One of the strongest and most convincing evidences of the remarkable results being accomplished by Tanlac throughout the country is the large numbers of letters that are now being received daily from scores of well-known men and women who have been benefited by its use.

Among the large number that have been received recently none are more interesting than the following letter from Dr. J. T. Edwards, of Fayetteville, Ga. Dr. Edwards, it will be remembered, recently gave Tanlac his unqualified indorsement in a public statement, and the testimonial published below was recently given him by one of his patients. His letter follows just as it was written:

Fayetteville, Ga.
Mr. G. F. Willis, Atlanta, Ga.
Dear Sir:

I am enclosing you herewith statement I have just received from Mr. T. M. McGough. He has sold out here, and is moving to Turin, Ga. He was here this morning, and came in to tell me what Tanlac had done for him. He says too much cannot be said about Tanlac. It certainly has cured him.

Respectfully,
J. T. EDWARDS, M. D.

Mr. McGough's statement follows:

"I suffered from indigestion and could not eat anything but what would hurt me. Constipation gave me a great deal of trouble also. My symptoms were indigestion, heartburn and gas on the stomach after eating. My appetite was irregular and my food failed to nourish me. This trouble caused me to get very poor—in fact I got so thin and weak I was hardly able to go about. I bought three bottles of Tanlac on Dr. Edwards' recommendation, and I am able to attend to business. I gained seventeen pounds in weight and am doing fine. Tanlac did the work."

"I now recommend Tanlac to everyone who is sick like I was and wishes to take something that will help them."

Tanlac is sold in Paris by the Peoples' Pharmacy. (adv)

THE FIRST SUEZ CANAL

The pride of modern men in their works of engineering is somewhat abashed when reflected upon the extent of the public works of ancient peoples. Three thousand years before Christ the Egyptians had suggested building a canal across the Isthmus of Suez, and before 200 B. C. the canal was a reality. The course of this original canal was from the mouth of the Nile to the Red Sea, a somewhat longer course than the one now followed. Neco, a monarch of 600 B. C., attempted to restore this waterway after centuries of disuse, but failed after heroic attempts.

It was about this time that an Egyptian ship sailed around Africa, a journey which took three years. Because the sailors insisted that the sun rose on different sides of the ship during its voyage down and its course back home, the story of the voyage was discredited by the scientists of those days.

Napoleon was the first modern monarch to seriously consider building a Suez Canal, but it was not until the middle of the 19th Century that the waterway was built, this time by Ferdinand de Lesseps at a cost of about $100,000,000.

WITH FINGERS!

CORNS LIFT OUT

Freezone is magic! Corns and calluses lift right off—

Doesn't hurt a bit

A few cents buys a tiny bottle of the magic Freezone at any drug store. Apply a few drops of Freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly that troublesome corn or callus stops hurting, then shortly you lift it out, root and all, without any pain, soreness or irritation. These little bottles of Freezone contain just enough to rid the feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes and the calluses on bottom of feet. So easy! So simple. Why wait? No humming!

The fellow who was born with a silver spoon in his mouth doesn't necessarily stir up things.

NO GREAT ACT OF HEROISM REQUIRED.

If some great act of heroism was necessary to protect a child from croup, no mother would hesitate to protect her offspring, but when it is only necessary to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and give it as soon as the first indication of croup appears, there the many who neglect it. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is within the reach of all and is prompt and effectual. (adv-jan)
